

Flight of the Concords

Day Four

Concords play list by Willie

The great and mighty Concords have a tough job ahead but will rise to the challenge put forth. All of our achievements can be summed up by our very own music play list.

When the other teams see us coming we can hear shouts of "It's the incredibles" (fast crew), and this is true because the Concords are No ordinary thing (Opshop) and we are always One jump ahead (Aladdin) of those Teenage dirt bags (Weatus). Of course none of this would be possible without our coaches; so a shout out to Anna, our very own Killer Queen (Queen), Luke even if he does sometimes have to say Oops my bad (Fast Crew) to Dave for being so Bubbly (Colbie Caillat) and for Clive for making sure nobody is Lonely (Akon). We will follow you Where ever you will go (The Calling).

To our team captain's, thanks Shane our Original prankster (the Offspring) and also to Lauren for keeping everybody on a High (James Blunt). Also to some of the other swimmers, if anyone Gives you hell (All American Rejects) it's likely to be Ryan and Freddie. A shout out to Zac, who is Pretty fly for a white guy (The Offspring), even if sometimes you would like him to Shut up (Simple Plan). To all of us who have lost, I hope that we can just Move along (All American Rejects), there's no Need to cry (James Blunt) we already know It's too late (Evermore) for the Smurfs and the Indians to stop the comeback of the century. So One more time (Daft Punk), a great big Thank you (Simple Plan) to the whole team!

Lauren and Shane's captains corner

As we get to know everyone better.... Some a little too much, we thought we would give you a run down on rest of the team-

Bernie - Sorry that you had to sacrifice your pet for the team's dinner. Chris really thinks you would be a viable wife option, so long as your dads cooking.

Emma- "Oh my god pregnant" (at the time of reading and writing this the coaches became very concerned)

Zac - "Oamaru the home town of all the bros- WHAT!"...again real iterating what has been earlier in this newsletter Zac- too much talk.

Brock- "Bro I got a sick 'A' frame". Brock is the eating machine of the team and can often be seen complaining fourth's are not available.

Willie- Can always be found with his head in a book but rumor is that he is a bit of a Romeo and knocks out a great pick up mix cd.

Tom- Sir text a lot, has either a girl pining for his attention or mum just worries too much (ring Freddie's mum for advice Mrs Ward).

Freddie- "I'm sure I can turn this window into a fire exit", can be seen running into walls regularly. Freddie's mum, as you know, has become a legend amongst the team.

Lil - The anchor of numerous fight backs, the quiet assassin of the team. Often heard talking about her team's extensive camp, warm up and warm down procedures. Fits any gap needed.

Ryan- Urban legend has it that Ryan was brought up in a traveling circus...Birdman to his adoring fans. Feats including bird calls and card tricks keep us amused.

Thomas/Billy - Is the ripped Jean Claude Van Damm look alike in the team. Turns the ladies heads where ever he goes as well as Dylan from Indians.

Chris- Chris enjoys using his long neck for peering into everyone's business. Very superstitious and is always last out of Warm up and has a liking for Bernie (debatable if it's just because of her fathers cooking).

Caro - BLONDE explains it all and can often be seen tripping over her feet. A newfound breastroker who always has some what 'random' insights on events- whispering to someone in a loud voice also doesn't work Caroline.

Emily - Snow White who would be lost without her glasses- with Tom forms our Hutt breaststroke duo, fighting distance freestyle in sets everywhere.

Josie - Apparently has the "most beautiful eyes" on the tour so a couple of unnamed boys confirm. Josie has spent her life trying to bring socks with sandals in as a fashion trend- maybe in a few more years.

Jade- Has all the skills to become NZ's next top boxer. In a past life she must have been a shark as people confirm when she's firing she shows her teeth regularly mid chomp. Always has her glasses on hand for those darn paparazzi.

Sophia- Our mini tank that moves so freely through water destroying all in her path. Try's to sneak in naps wherever possible to the annoyance of the coaches count off attempts.

Rebecca- the emo in the corner to some, but can be seen regularly flashing a decent smile whenever a certain blond member of another team is around (lots). I hope it is some ploy to slow him down Rebecca!
